RASTECH is delivered as a glossy magazine supplement to the readers of both Hatchery International and Aquaculture North America (every other issue). The target readership are owners and operators of land-based aquaculture facilities using RAS technology, such as full grow-out farms, post-smolt operations, hatcheries, commercial aquaponics and aquaculture research facilities. Each issue covers the latest developments from around the world in RAS technology, roll-outs, new products, research and more. RASTECH is the information resource for this hottest growth area in the aquaculture industry.
